6-quart Intrigue® glass-top square stainless steel induction chafer with stainless steel food pan

The Vollrath® Intrigue induction chafer features an elegant, low-profile design that allows for high-quality food presentation and easier serving, as well as a glass top for excellent product visibility. The versatile stainless steel water pan can be used with any induction heater and ensures even heating, while the 6-quart food pan easily fits a wide range of food products. Featuring a sleek handle that provides a comfortable grip and a slow-moving hinge design, this chafer cover can hold in closed, 45- or 90-degree positions for serving convenience. The cover can be removed for easy cleaning, and the reinforced bracket works with the rubber table casters to maintain stability and prevent movement.
